Honors Awarded As Year Closes At WT

Degrees were awarded to 379 graduating students Sunday at West Texas State College's annual spring convocation, as Dr. Dudley Strain, minister of the First Christian Church of Lubbock, spoke.

President James P. Cornette honored two retiring faculty members, John A. Gillis, head of the industrial arts department since 1929, and Miss Agnes Charlton, associate professor of modern languages since 1925. He also paid tribute to Milton "Buff" Morris, executive vice president of Opportunity Plan, Inc., whose program received national publicity Sunday.

In a senior class and awards assembly last Thursday, Bill McKenzie of Levelland and Judith Parsons of Canyon were named the Class of '63's outstanding senior man and woman.

Dr. Cornette paid high tribute to Lt. Governor Preston Smith, Senators Grady Haywood and Andy Rogers, and Rep. J. M. Simpson and other Panhandle legislators who guided through the legislature this year the bill redesignating West Texas State as "university." He also praised the work of Rep. Hudson Moyer of Amarillo, who guided a second bill through the legislature, making it possible for WT to accept private funds for research programs.

Three awards went to Mayla Atkinson of Canyon, who won the scholarship key of Phi Gamma Nu, national business sorority; the National Business Education Association Sneed Award; and Phi Delta Kappa's plaque as the outstanding "potential" secondary school teacher. Winner of the elementary school teacher award was Bonnie Gist of Canyon. Judy Williams of Floydada won the Gregg Publishing Company award in shorthand and typing, and accounting awards went to John Messenger of Canyon, Linda Reece of Amarillo, and Jim

Jaycees Give Scholarship

Mary Nitengale was awarded a scholarship from the Canyon Jaycees at the graduation exercises of Canyon High School last Friday evening.

The scholarship is for use at West Texas State University where Miss Nitengale will begin medical studies. She plans to enter the nursing profession following college graduation.

Miss Nitengale is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Nitengale.

She was selected from a list of four graduating students that were submitted to the Jaycees according to Richard Pruett, Jaycee president. Each year the Junior Chamber of Commerce selects a man and woman teacher at the high school to submit the names of an outstanding boy and girl for consideration for the scholarship.

County Court Docket Call Next Monday

District Attorney Truett Hull this week said County Judge Wayland Angel will proceed with docket call in county court Monday morning.

He said jury trials will begin the week of June 17 and the jury commission will be used as usual. He said he will ask the judge to over rule any motion to dismiss the jury because the jury wheel system is not used.

County court officials were in a qundry last week when

Court Delays Little League Gift Action

Commissioners court this week delayed action on a Little League baseball donation request pending a decision from Truett Hull, district attorney who also serves as county attorney.

A court suit was filed in Hale County as a result of similar donation there. The case was closed when such underwriting of Little League activities were suspended.

High Winds Hit Canyon Monday Night

Rain and high winds, estimated at a peak of 85 miles per hour, hit the Canyon area Monday night causing widespread minor damage to trees, fences, power poles and equipment and to one store window in downtown Canyon.

The rains fell over a wide area from the northwest to southeast with 1/2 inch measured by Dr. M. B. Measamer at the West Texas University weather station. Dr. Measamer also estimated the winds at 85 miles per hour.

The storm hit the Canyon area about 6:30 in the evening. Tree limbs gave before the gusty winds, many of them piling up on street corners and against the sides of buildings. An 8 inch limb fell to the county courthouse lawn soon after the winds started.

The front window on Jennings' Men's Wear, on 16th Street, was blown out by the winds, however, little damage was done to the store other than to the window. The open space was quickly boarded up before the heavy rains started.

Southwestern Public Service Company reports that a transformer was overloaded when broken tree limbs landed across hot power lines. The transformer had to be replaced. Several transformer and lateral fuse switches also were overloaded requiring servicing by the power company.

City manager Bill York reports an electrical power failure at the city water pumping station caused the pumps to be shut down temporarily while Southwestern Public Service repairmen worked to restore power. York said the power was restored within a few minutes of its being reported. He said there was no water shortage.

The city has an auxiliary gasoline engine set up in the pump house to take over the water pumping in the event the electrical power is ever out of service for an extended length of time, he said. Squirrelly Daniels of 405 Taylor Lane, reports the wind knocked over a redwood fence by breaking off a four by four inch support post and removing some of the slats. No hail was reported to have fallen.

Canyon Youngster To Legion Boys' State

Kenneth Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Brown of UMBARGER, has been selected to attend the American Legion Boys' State, held at the state capitol in Austin.

An outstanding student at Canyon High School and an active member in the Canyon chapter of Future Farmers of America, Kenneth was chosen over three other boys at Canyon High School to attend the educational activity at the state capitol.

Brown will leave June 9 by bus for Austin, returning June 15. The bus will pick up other members of the trip along the way to Austin.

While at Boys' State, the boys will take part in an organized program of student government and recreation.

The boys will divide into representative counties, precincts, judicial districts, cities and rural communities to give concrete instruction in the different types of American government.

The boys will then divide into two political parties, the Pioneers and the Longhorns with election of student officers fol-

WT Gets AEC Grant

Space Study May Be Next Move At School

BY TROY MARTIN

Another door to research was opened for West Texas State University this week as the institution received a grant of $10,000 for use in the instructional field of atomic energy.

The grant was made by the Atomic Energy Commission and the funds will be used to purchase equipment. Dr. William R. Wilson, associate professor of physics at the school, said there is a possibility of the school receiving a total of $25,000 to be put to instructional use.

Dr. Wilson prepared the 37-page report upon which the request for the grant was based.

West Texas already has an alliance with the Department of Interior for mutual assistance in helium research.

There has been some talk that space research may be done here in the future but nothing concrete has been announced as yet.

University officials still are hopeful that a research center financed with funds from a privately endowed foundation may be established at WT. Enabling legislation has been passed by the state legislature but there has been no announcement as to actual establishment of such a research center.

In the meantime, Dr. James P. Cornette, school president, said he expects a sizeable increase in the enrollment here next fall.

Three new dormitories--two for boys and one for girls--will have been completed by September. The two facilities

LaFollette Returning To Seminole

Coach Metz LaFollette is going back to Seminole, the place where he made a reputation as one of the state's outstanding high school basketball coaches.

LaFollette guided the Seminole Indians for nine years before taking the top spot at West Texas State.

At Seminole, LaFollette's charges won 169 games and suffered 69 losses during his tenure, including an outstanding 130-27 record for the last five campaigns. In 1955, the Indians took the state crown. They were in the state play offs the next three seasons.

LaFollette resigned his position at West Texas State. "I'm glad to have the opportunity to go back," LaFollette observed. "They play good basketball down there and I know everybody--that helps."

Seminole was second in state this year.

Mrs. LaFollette is the former Mary Bourn of Canyon.

Two Canyon Boys Are On Camp Staff

Randy Warren and Joe Stephens will be on the camp staff at Camp Don Harrington for the 1963 summer camp season. They will leave Wednesday of next week to assume their duties.

Randy will work as store room and office clerk. He has worked on the camp staff in three previous years being Nature Instructor one summer. Randy is the Jr. Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 31 and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Warren.

Joe will act as the camp store manager during his first year on the camp staff. He is an Instructor of Troop 108 and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stephens.

Dollar Day Movie Being Sponsored

The kids will get a treat as dollar days come to Canyon the first week end in June.

Friday and Saturday, June 7 and 8, have been designated as Dollar Days in Canyon for June.

There will be free shows twice on Friday only at the Olympic Theatre. The first show will be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until 11:15 and the second from 2:30 in the afternoon until 3:45.

The movie is being sponsored by merchants participating in Dollar Day. They invite customers to bring their children to the movie and then to shop Dollar Day bargains in Canyon stores.

Chamber Will Purchase Kits For 4-H Clubs

Canyon Chamber of Commerce board of directors this week voted to buy a club kit for the 4-H Clubs here.

The kit will contain a club banner, American flag and a rostrum for use in meetings. Purchase of the kit was recommended by the agricultural committee made up of R. B. Gist, Jr., chairman; and John Brazzil, E. M. Myers and Richmond Hales.

The board also heard several other committee reports.

Living symbols of two generations who fought for their country are Wes Kleinschmidt, left, commander of the Canyon American Legion Post, and H. R. King, commander of the Canyon post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander

To The Old Ball Game Is Canyon Summer Cry

School time is over for the summer and the time to play ball is upon us.

Babe Ruth League games have already started with Little League games due to start June 3.

Randall County Little League, as an extension of the state and national Little League organizations, has been operating full force since the summer of 1955 when it was first organized in the county.

For boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years, Little League--in the words of Truett Hull, this year's Little League president,--- is a program for little kids--some of whom aren't quite sure which end of the bat to use!"

Officers of the Little League for this year are Truett Hull, president; Joe Gidden, vice-president; LeRoy Moreland, secretary; H. R. King, treasurer; Squirrelly Daniels, commissioner; Carl Hair, equipment chairman; and Max Bosely Jr., grounds chairman.

This year's Little League is made up of four major leagues, five minor leagues, three Pee Wee leagues for 9 year olds and three Pee Wee leagues for 8 year olds.

The four major leagues with their managers are the Dodgers, Jim Boyce; the Red Legs, Joe Batson; the Yankees, Curtis Butler and the Braves, Don Briggs.

The five minor leagues with their managers are the Cubs, Jim Upfold; the Indians, Dan Mineir; the Colts, George Hinch; the Tigers, Larry Roberts and the Phillies, as yet without a coach.

The three Pee Wee Leagues for the 9 year olds are the Orioles with Dick Ziegler as coach; the Angels, Carroll Vaughan and the Mets with Wiley James.

The three Pee Wee teams for the 8 year olds are the Orioles with Jack Boyett; the Red Sox, Morris Henderson and the Senators with Penny Woods. Hull said there are about 250 Canyon youngsters involved in the Little League program, which gives them something constructive to do during the summer.

"The purposes of the Little League is to have a regularly scheduled activity during the summer months that the boys will enjoy," Hull said.

"We want to keep a healthy balance between the development of a sportsman-like conduct, an understanding of competition and the development of baseball skills. Each is just as important as the other," he

Reasons for the defeat of the Freeman proposal in the wheat referendum of last week still are coming in.

Here's what one farmer with whom we breakfasted this week had to say:

"I was gone from home a few days and when I got back I had five letters from the government explaining the proposed wheat program. All five had something different to say."

"I still don't know what it really was all about. The thing that finally decided my vote was the letter on interchanging wheat and grain sorghum acreage. When I got that I knew they were after something besides solving a surplus problem."

There's a lot of discussion in our elementary school system about the teaching of basic reading. In our opinion learning to read is absolutely essential if a person is going to get an education.

If a person's education is going to be of much benefit to him he must be able to express himself. We certainly applaud any efforts on the part of teachers to improve the methods of teaching simple reading and writing.

We hail any break through in this area as a major accomplishment in furthering the field of education as a whole.

District Attorney Truett Hull requested a copy of legislation dealing with selection of jurors in counties such as Randall. One bill he received dealing with the subject defies explanation. Hull and District Judge Gene Jordan conferred over it and allowed as how discovery of its meaning was a lost cause.

At first blush, we'd be in favor of the jury wheel system of selecting jurors. We presently use the jury commission system.

Use of the jury wheel should give a better cross section of those qualified to serve. We received a letter from one proponent of the wheel system in which he noted that some folks serve on juries repeatedly while others are never called for service when the jury commission system is used.

Mrs. W. L. Lewis brought by some sheet music she found in an old trunk. The music was copyrighted in 1897 and was written by Dr. Hercules Sanche with music by William Dressler.

Title of one song was "Cuba Free" and the other was "Ancestors Would Rise From the Grave To See Cuba Free."

The songs were written for the Cuban cause. That was the year before the United States went to war with Spain and helped free the island from Spanish rule.

We thumbed through a copy of this year's Le Mirage, the college annual, this week. Our congratulations to Bill Lee, Gort Rushmer and the rest of the folks in publications.

It is without a doubt the best annual we've ever seen. John Pagan did some outstanding photography as did Gort and some others. John was student photographer this year. He did a stint as Canyon News photographer a year or so ago.

We understand that Ronnie Davis will be doing some student photography at the college next year and we expect great things from him in that department.

Ronnie and Randy Warren were high school photographers at Canyon High School during the past school year.

If you haven't seen the latest edition of Le Mirage, get one. You have a treat in store.

Former Canyon Man Receives Honor Doctorate

George L. Graham received an honorary Dr. of laws degree at the graduation exercises of Hardin-Simmons University Monday evening.

Mr. Graham received his bachelors and masters degrees at West Texas State College. He had been serving as acting president for the administration of Hardin-Simmons for a year while the presidency was vacant.

He was the superintendent of schools at Hereford for 10 years and has taught at other schools in the Panhandle area.

Livestock Survey Cards Being Left In Mail Boxes

Canyon Postmaster Marion Higdon reminds rural patrons of the Canyon Post Office to be on the lookout for June livestock survey cards. Mail carriers will leave the survey cards in a sampling of mail boxes.

The cards give the United States Department of Agriculture a sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings, he said.

Hilltop Views

I shall not say again "There is nothing new under the sun." Our state government has this year demonstrated the falsity of this old cliché.

For example, who ever heard of a Governor of Texas pleading and fighting for larger appropriations for state colleges and universities? In all my thirty years of educational grazing around the capitol I never before heard (or heard of) a Governor who so much as intimated publicly that the legislature had short-changed the institutions of higher learning.

On the other hand, more than 5 per cent of the Governors during my public tenure exerted a measure of influence in just the opposite direction. Sometimes that measure was pretty considerable. It seemed to me that most of our Governors were holding-back straps when appropriations for state colleges were involved.

This is not meant as an adverse criticism. I think that most of our chief executives sincerely desired to serve the best interests of Texas, but most of them in my day had had comparatively little contact with higher education, especially at the state level, and three were graduates of private institutions. At least three of them had never attended college.

This lack of formal education on the part of so many of our Governors may surprise some of the readers of this column, but it must be remembered that Texans as a whole have never gone "hog-wild" on higher education—at least not until Russia sent her "Sputnik" up, and nearly scared the pants off most of us.

Incidentally, this fear that Russia shot into us at the same time she shot this Sputnik into the air is still with us and nobody knows it better than Mr. Khrushchev. It accounts for a lot of things that are new not only in Austin, but also in Washington, among which are astronomical budgets.

If you had told me at any time in my tenure at W. T. that authorities in Austin would soon be arguing among themselves about whether to add $4 million or $13 million dollars to a billion dollar budget I would have asked you when you lost your mind, I am telling you for sure, folks, there are new things under the sun. I am glad the powers that be did not offer me any such budgets as they are handing out today. I couldn't have stood the shock.

I learned a long time ago, however, not to be surprised at what happens in Austin. Never a legislature convenes that there aren't a few wild asses that enjoy braying. One of the worst of these this year was the guy (I don't recall his name) who introduced a bill that would have made every holder of a L.L. B. degree eligible to receive a life-time teacher's certificate. This would have been very helpful to Jack-leg attorneys who can't make a living practicing law, but it sure would have been hard on the kids. Less damage would be done by making every teacher's certificate also a license to practice law. It would be a safe bet that the author of that bill is himself a Jack-leg lawyer or has a friend who is. Fortunately, a majority of the legislators have good sense, so the bill got little or no consideration.

One good thing the legislature did was the defeat of the proposal to raise tuition at state colleges. Perhaps it was never presented in the form of a bill, but there was much sentiment for it and at one time it looked a sure bet. Of course, it could come yet as a result of this hassle over appropriations. Let us hope that college education for the well-to-do only is a dead duckling—died in the shell before hatching.

Music is probably heard in most people's homes at least once a day. From chiming door bells to musical cake plates, some form of tune is available all of the time.

A number of musical instruments can be found in most homes in Canyon. We hear musical train whistles, birds singing, and if you are near a school you can hear the music of classrooms in practice of hand or choral.

It was our fortune to be given a music box that hangs on the back of the phone to play a little tune for the party at the other end of the line in case he has to wait till you find the right party for a call. This entertains the person who is holding the line.

What I really am leading up to is the music we are furnished with that we really don't expect. We not only get music, advertisements, and weather, we get news bulletins. All you need to do is lift the receiver of your phone. When you play records on your portable record player (which we have sold) you have a great variety. Voices seem to add bulk to just instruments. Records that you don't even own play happily in between your records. Voices announce bargains of the day. When we called the local station in our curiosity, we were told to reverse the wall plug. We did. It helped. But I wasn't sure I wasn't being kidded!

In the case of a tape recorder, you get excellent radio reception. When it is on record, you get the best reception. When you unhook the mike, you have a clearer reception, or if you feel very lively, hold the mike against your body for strong, clear tunes, news, etc.

Who needs a radio, just listen to your telephone in your spare time. I'm just wondering if the washer or refrigerator has anything to offer. An iron should give out with these musical results, then time would surely fly by....

Dr. Bobb Schaeffer

New York Paleontologist Seeks Rare Fossil Here

Looking for fossilfishes isn't an everyday occupation but to Dr. Bobb Schaeffer, curator of vertebrate paleontology at the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, it is old stuff.

Dr. Schaeffer visited Canyon last week on a tour through the Southwest with Dr. Earl Green of the West Texas Museum at Texas Tech College in Lubbock.

Dr. Schaeffer's reason for visiting the Canyon area was to search Palo Duro Canyon for signs of a certain extinct fossil fish called coelacanth, thought to be one of the first fishes that developed amphibious characteristics prior to leaving the sea and living on land.

Several living coelacanths have been found off the coast of eastern Africa and have been properly called "living fossils."

Dr. Schaeffer, who is probably one of three experts in the United States on fossil fish, visited portions of Palo Duro Canyon in search of these fossils. He says the skull of a coelacanth was found in the canyon some years ago by an amateur paleontologist and that he would hope to duplicate the find. Bones of the fossil fish have also been found near Big Spring, he said.

Dr. Schaeffer said the fossil locations in the Texas Panhandle, particularly the Palo Duro Canyon, are among the most productive in the world for animals that lived between the Pliocene and Pleistocene periods.

Open House At Calvary Parsonage

An Open House was held at the new parsonage of the Calvary Baptist Church Saturday afternoon. The parsonage is located at 1212 9th Avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. Jack Boyett headed the receiving line at the open house. Others assisting were Mrs. James Reynolds, Woman's Missionary Union president, and Mrs. W. T. Reynolds, community missions chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mesdames A. S. Bednorz, Gilbert Davidson and O. C. Free.

The three bedroom home was constructed by men of the church over several months. Pine paneling is featured in the family room and kitchen. The kitchen is furnished with all electric appliances. The home has one and 3/4 tiled baths.

Mrs. Boyett has selected early American furniture for the living room. Other rooms were not furnished at the time of the open house.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grabber, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Grabber, Mrs. Mary Grabber, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Grabber and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Friemel and families attended a Grabber family reunion in Slaton last week.

New Geology Course Slated

An unusual geology field course is being offered at West Texas State University during the coming summer session, according to professor Jack Hughes, head of the geology department at West Texas.

The field course has several unusual features which may make it attractive to geology majors, according to Hughes. The field training will be given mainly in nearby Palo Duro Canyon during the afternoons so that students may live on campus, take other courses in the mornings and pay only the low tuition for residence work, Hughes said.

Trips to the Rocky and Wichita Mountains will be taken on weekends with students driving their own cars instead of paying special transportation fees, Hughes said.

Listed under the name Geology 310, Field Geology and Paleontology, the course is on a junior level, with a prerequisite of 12 semester hours of geology and/or biology. The course carries a credit of three semester hours and may be repeated on a more advanced level during the second semester of the summer term for a total credit of six semester hours.

The unusual course will be taught by Dr. Frank Daugherty, the newly hired geologist who has extensive experience with the geology of West Texas and Northern Mexico.

Registration for the course is June 4.

Infant Rites Held Sunday

Survivors include the parents; a brother, Randy; two sisters, Linda and Bonny, all of the home. Grandparents of the infant were Mrs. Eula Moffett of Clarendon and Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Francis of Amarillo.

Wear Will Begin Ninth Year As Minister Here

Bob Wear will begin his ninth year as minister at Canyon Central Church of Christ next Sunday.

Wear with his wife and son, John, moved to Canyon from Hereford in 1955.

The past eight years have seen steady growth at the Church of Christ. Additional land has been purchased to provide for expansion which now is in the planning stages.

In addition to his duties at the church, Wear has been active in community and civic life of Canyon. In 1959 he served as chairman of a 15-member charter commission, a group of business and professional men and women who wrote the city's present home rule charter. The charter serves as the constitution by which our municipal government is being administered.

No Picnic In Prospect This Fall Says Kerbel

BY MIKE MOON

"It's not going to be any picnic--a real knock-down, drag-out!" quoth Coach Joe Kerbel concerning the 1963 West Texas State football season.

The season opens at home Sept. 21 against Arlington State. The following game against the University of Pacific is a real worrier, Pacific reportedly outweighs the West Texas line by almost 30 pounds per man and the backfield has seven men that can outrun the Buff's according to head coach Kerbel.

"North Texas State has one of the best backfields in the nation if not the best pro prospects," cautioned Kerbel. "And Arizona State has an out-named so bad it's not funny!"

Next in line is one of the best teams in the nation in Memphis State who only lost one game in 1962 and that was by a two-touchdown deficit to Mississippi.

There's no rest in sight as Arizona University Wildcats invade Buffalo Bowl to try and upset WT's homecoming. And upset they may well do since they beat the Buff's last season 8-3 and have everyone coming back.

With all of the above games at home with the exception of Arizona State, which will be at Tempe again this year, Trinity will be the next opponent in Alamo Stadium of San Antonio, New Mexico State follows at Canyon complete with the Preyin' Preacher--Pilot, that is.

The closing game of the season will be away from home at El Paso against a much-improved Texas Western Miners team.

"I'm not pessimistic, but any injuries would be disastrous," said Kerbel. "I wouldn't trade any of our boys but I think that training, determination, courage, and a willingness to make the supreme effort will be necessary to win. I have all the confidence that our athletes will make that supreme effort."

Kerbel added, "Although we're optimistic about the squad, we are very green at the key position--tackle--a great deal will depend on them."

"Football is not like other sports in that the competition is such a physical thing and not just ability-wise in nature. I am optimistic concerning the squad, but a look at the opposition and their personnel will show that there will be very few games that we will have superior or even equal personnel with respect to ability, size, experience, and depth."

The 1962 Sun Bowl champion Buffaloes lost seven men by graduation; four tackles, a quarterback, halfback, and a guard. Outstanding personnel in the forms of Pete Pedro, Hoot Gibson, Jerry Richardson, Russell Mundy, Ollie Ross won't hurt next fall's chances for a winning record at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henders of Sweetwater visited with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henders, Sr., over the week-end.

City Requests Weeds Be Cut

City manager Bill York requested Wednesday that property owners in Canyon cut weeds which are sure to grow after the recent rains.

York said the high weeds will provide a breeding place for mosquitoes as well as harboring snakes and rodents. He added that the high weeds will become a fire hazard next winter when they dry out.

City Action On Back Tax Is Scheduled

PI City ACTION 31

City Manager Bill York, said Monday that property with delinquent taxes against it of more than three to five years, with owners whereabouts unknown, will probably go up for auction sale some time in June.

York told the city commission Monday night that he had sent three letters to the last known address of the property owners and had published their names with a description of the property and due taxes. He said description of the property and the owners name will again be published in the Canyon News.

York said another group, made up of available property owners owing three years or less in taxes, would receive a form letter informing them of their delinquent property taxes, requesting settlement of the debt.

In other business, the commission reviewed the action of the city zoning commission for the zoning of the Ponderosa Addition. The commission authorized York to proceed with the drawing up of an ordinance concerning the zoning of the addition.

City Fire Captain, Joe Rice, discussed with the commission a proposed fire prevention ordinance which, among other points, would require a city fire permit to burn trash or to store inflammable, explosive, combustible or radioactive materials within the city limits.

The city also discussed proposed health, sanitation and trash collection ordinances.

City building inspector, E. A. Collier, discussed recommendations of the city plumbing board for a revised plumbing code.

Prairie Wildlife

The big outdoors news this week is the carp at Buffalo Lake. Following the small rise on Buffalo Lake from Friona Draw, the carp headed for the shallow waters at the head of the lake, following the creek up as far as they could go.

Taking advantage of a once-a-year opportunity, the game and fish commission spent the week setting and retrieving thousands of feet of gillnets, hauling out tons of carp.

With the aid of sportsmen from the Randall County Sportsmen's Club, the Game and Fish Commission crews waded into the carp over the week end, following the spawning trash fish up the creeks and killing them as fast as they could swing a club or oar.

By late Sunday afternoon, Lonnie Peters, with sore arm and shoulder from swinging a boat oar, estimated there were some 25 tons of carp either netted and removed from the lake or clubbed in the flooded creek.

Twenty-five tons of carp is a lot of dead fish but really only a very small part of the carp population at Buffalo Lake. Each bit helps. The game boys with the federal wildlife service are getting ready to do some really large scale carp eradication sometime soon.

If another rise hits the lake the carp will start to spawn all over again as many of the females aren't ready to spawn and won't be for another week or so.

Carp eat a tremendous quantity of the available fish food, cutting the more desirable game fish out of a meal. Each carp killed makes that much more room and food for game fish. They are still out there, although not as thick as last week end. The public is welcome to help control the carp situation by heading for the head (creek end) of the lake with waders, a pitchfork or club and a strong arm.

Wayne Friemel of Umbarger used an ingenious rig Sunday to eliminate a lot of carp. He wired a bayonet on the end of a pole and used it to stab the carp as he waded up the creeks. He killed some 200 fish over five pounds in about 4 hours last Sunday.

If another rise hits Buffalo, all sportsmen are urged to head for the lake after the carp. It's getting hotter each day and the desire to go boating will soon be at its summer peak. Please be careful. The life you save might be ours.
